Join Pedro Noguera for Solid, Actionable Ways to Reach Every Child

Our students have vastly different challenges including poverty, different cultures, special needs and social-emotional health. How can you provide success for all children? Join renowned author Pedro Noguera to understand the issues and explore real solutions. Challenging the zero-sum myth, Noguera will demonstrate that equity is truly the path to excellence for both low and high-achieving students, and our K–12 educational system overall. You'll see how equity is achieved not through providing the same resources to all children, but rather through meeting the different needs of students.

BRING YOUR TEAM!

Start working toward solutions on-site with key stakeholders

BRING YOUR DATA!

Participants are invited, and encouraged, to bring data from school improvement plans that indicate demographics of student success and challenges

SAVE!

Every sixth person using the same payment source can attend free! (see back of form or register at ohioascd.org/equity)

The purpose of the conference is to gain new insights as we:

- Share information regarding equitable educational access for all students from the Ohio Department of Education perspective
- Provide equity information to increase knowledge and to support the development and implementation of strategies that support educational access for all students
 - Understand the impact of shifting demographics
 - Explore methods for developing successful outcomes
 - Identify opportunities for early wins
 - Learn to operate as an effective, learning team
- Introduce and encourage the use of the Whole Child Framework and its tenets
- Encourage collaboration between community stakeholders focusing on equity and access
- Provide time for community teams to review, re-examine, and update the equity plans submitted by their school districts
- Offer expert feedback to school districts and communities regarding their equity and access plans

PEDRO NOGUERA is a Distinguished Professor of Education in the Graduate School of Education and Information Sciences at UCLA. His research focuses on the ways in which schools are influenced by social and economic conditions, as well as by demographic trends in local, regional and global contexts. He is the author of eleven books and over 200 articles and monographs. He serves on the boards of numerous national and local organizations and appears as a regular educational issues commentator on CNN, MSNBC, National Public Radio, and other national news outlets.
